

This is to help all novice folks in determining whether their new puppy is of a female or male gender. If you are still not sure after viewing these photos do take your puppy to your local veterinarian's office or the Humane Society to have them sex your puppy for you.

This photo shows a female puppy. Notice that she urinates from an opening down low between her rear legs.

This photo shows a male puppy. He will urinate from the opening midway up his tummy. You will not find an opening between his legs.
